CROSSINGS DANGEROUS COMPLAIN SPEERS PEOPLE IN RESOLUTION

Railroad to be Asked to Make Changes, as Well as Street Railways Co.

COUNCIL DETERMINES ACTION

Takes Up Matter Not Only With Railroad Company, But With Public Service Commission—Watchman is Desired.

Maintaining that the railroad crossing near the station at Speers is dangerous and that a new method of stopping trains has added to the danger, Speers borough council through their secretary, James T. Heffran has taken up the matter of protection with both the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission. The request generally is that a watchman be placed at the crossing or that some other means be adopted for the protection of the public. Also a movement for increased safety at the present railway crossing of the Pittsburgh-Charlottesville Railways company will be asked to bring cars to a full stop at this crossing.

The council of Speers borough held an important meeting on Tuesday night at which the crossing matters were discussed and argued to a conclusion. Wednesday, Secretary Heffran sent the resolution which was passed to the railroad company and to the public service commission. The resolution was simply as described that means of protection be adopted. Trains now stop on the crossing it is complained and then people attempt to crowd across when it pulls out, resulting in danger from vehicles as well as from trains.

On the street railway line accidents at the crossing are feared. Within the last month or two a number have occurred, though not of any particularly serious nature. Complaints are that there is overspeeding of cars and that some do not stop or diminish their speed.

SALTY SENTENCE FOR SHOOTING YOUNG GIRL

Member of Carnival Band Returns From Oklahoma to Monessen to Conclude Romance and Instead
Gets Into Trouble

One year and two months in the workhouse, costs and $1 fine is the sort of sentence Sam Calgar, a demonstrative, lovesick Italian drew in the courts of Westmoreland county at Greensburg Wednesday for shooting Elizabeth Ferrero, a Monessen girl to whom for a time he was engaged.

Last August the testimony read, Miss Ferrero and Calgar met while Calgar was with a carnival, playing a cornet in the carnival band. Friendship ripened into stronger regard, until it was with the understanding when he left that he would return for her. Calgar went to Oklahoma, where he joined the regular army. The girl wrote him two or three letters a week until about September 4, when woman-like she changed her mind about getting married, and informed by the next mail, asking him his ring jewelry and gifts.

Calgar was displeased and returned to Monessen October 3. He called on the girl but she had company. Next evening he made another call and insisted that Miss Ferrero marry him. She spurned his proffered love. Then it is said that Calgar attempted to kill the young woman. The first bullet entered her right cheek, a second her shoulder and the third knocked the hairpins from her head and injured the back of her head. She fell unconscious and Calgar fled. Later he was captured by the police with his trial following.

MANY MORE SUITS AGAINST MAGNATE

J. V. Thompson Made Defendant in Numerous Financial Claims

COMMITTEE IN NEW YORK

Attorneys representing the creditors of J. V. Thompson Wednesday filed many more suits against the former banker and coal land operator. The total of the suits filed within five days is almost $1,250,000.

W. A. Stone, Uniontown banker, Tuesday night went to New York to take part in the conferences between Mr. Thompson and the creditors' committee.

The committee is in New York trying to get financiers to come to the aid of the Thompson creditors. The committee is reported to have persuaded several capitalists to consider the purchase of the Thompson holdings. A business man said at Uniontown Wednesday.

"As there is a general boom in the coke-making business in Fayette county now, the creditors' committee has an opportunity to clear up the financial difficulties here.

"Mr. Thompson holds about 175,000 acres of coal land and it is valued at $600 to $700 an acre. It is fair to estimate this land is worth $50,000,000 and the Thompson indebtedness is about $30,000,000 so there will be plenty of money for the creditors if the committee can interest the capitalists to purchase. Nearly 400,000 tons of coke are shipped out of the region every week and with coke selling at $2.75 a ton a good future is assured for the sale of land. These coke-making companies are using up 53 acres of coal land every day."

Monongahela-Finleyville

Highway Contains Many Bad Turns and Breaks

ACCIDENTS OCCUR ALREADY

Two Reported This Week—One Man
Tries to Render Telephone Pole
Useless—Bridge Located in Bend
Of the Road.

The new state highway connecting Monongahela and Finleyville is practically completed and is now open for traffic. It is one of the best roads in the state and is a temptation to automobile drivers to try out the speed of their cars. Through this fact the road is considered extremely dangerous, not that it would not be safe enough under ordinary conditions but there are several bad turns in it and persons unfamiliar with the district are very likely to "pile their machines on the rocks," according to the Monongahela Times.

A number of accidents have already occurred on the road and it is feared that fatalities may result near Lank's Hill, one of the bad places in the road.

This week A. L. Dievert of Monongahela driving his new Chalmers Six had a narrow escape, when his machine failed to round the turn and was wrecked. It is understood that the machine turned over. Workmen went to the scene and righted the machine and brought it home. It was little the worse for the experience. Another man lost control of his machine on the road and tried to jump over a telephone post.

These are only two of a dozen accidents that have already occurred on the new road. Another particularly dangerous point is where the road passes under the bridge. There is little clearance space at this point and drivers are compelled to exercise caution taken to prevent accidents. turn and the bridge. In the words of the famous old Irish section hand, "it's only going to be a short time until some fast driver is going to aim that hole." The bridge and approach will be painted white and every precaution taken to prevent accidents. It has been officially predicted that it will only be a short time until a section of the road near Lank Hill will be condemned as too dangerous for use.

John G. Staudenmayer, manufacturer of fine ice cream and proprietor of the Quality bake shop of Monessen will offer his business and property for sale at a bargain to a quick buyer. Reason—going to engage in a different business. 126-1

Miss Mary M. Chester left Wednesday for Boston where she will attend school.

BUSINESS INFLUENCE

The present demand for steel and the fact that the big iron and steel mills are not only running to full capacity but are being enlarged to meet the present demands, is having its influence on all kinds of business enterprises and is affecting the prices of all those commodities which enter into the manufacture of steel, says the Washington Observer.

The price of coke has advanced within the past few weeks and is likely to go still higher on account of the increased demands. This naturally makes coal more valuable and should inevitably make for a more staple value of all coal lands, both those in course of development and those being held by private owners. Washington county is naturally interested in this situation not simply because coal mining is its most important industry but because so much of the wealth of the county is in undeveloped coal lands.

Congressman-elect Temple's great plurality in the 24th district is nothing if not pleasing, since it affords a true conception of existing sentiment as well as evidence recognition of personal ability. Dr. Temple should be one of the biggest men in this nation now, and we believe he will be. He is capable and it means something to the leaders to see a man sent to congress with such wonderful support. There is food for thought in the figures and excuse for a little guessing about what may be their bearing on national questions eventually.

Among the obliterating features, which tend to destroy the beauty of streets of Charleoi and practically all other towns of the Monongahela valley, are the scores and scores of telephone and electric light poles. There could be little consideration of an immediate change, placing wires underground, but a movement in this direction is a good thing to think about.

Up in Greene county a hunter stooped to lift a rock. His revolver fell from his holster and struck in such a way as to fire it and send a bullet through his heart. This is just one accident of several. It seems as though there is absolutely no safe and sane way of hunting game.

MORRIS-WILLIAMS WEDDINGS PERFORMED AT BRIDE'S HOME

A quiet home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rev. A. J. Whipple, pastor of the First Presbyterian church performed the ring ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Leila Orange and the groom by his brother, David Morris. The young couple marched to the altar to the strains of the Lorengin wedding march played by Miss Mabel Orange. The bride carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dunbaker of Southside, Pittsburg, grandparents of the bride and John Morris a brother of the groom. let's talk turkey for a few minutes

We'll just take this opportunity to say that we appreciate this confidence that you out-of-town folks put in us.

Remember at school, when the teacher put us on our honor about not talking—and not chewing gum, etc.—you just made up your mind that you would deserve that confidence.

Just the same principle holds true about our storekeeping. You send us your good money by mail, fully trusting to our honor not to violate your confidence—and we've kept the faith for nearly half century—and we say—boastfully, if you please—we're proud of that record.

And by the way—we promised to talk turkey—didn't we? If you're in town between now and Thanksgiving, come over—we've got a good restaurant and we just know you can spend a day here and at least save carfare on your purchases.

Special sales of Thanksgiving needs—Linens—Out Glass—and goodies for the table—oh! ever so many things which you'll want when you see them, and every price a low one.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATERS

Take Your Morning Bath in Comfort

Not only during the warmer months, but all through the hard, raw, shivery winter time.

In spite of the coldest, snowiest weather, you can get full pleasure from your morning bath if you'll only get a

PERFECTION Smokeless Oil Heater

Keep it ready by your bedside, spreading its genial warmth all through your sleeping room; then, just as soon as you roll out of bed, put your Perfection in the bathroom. In less than no time this, too, will be warm—not too warm, but just right.

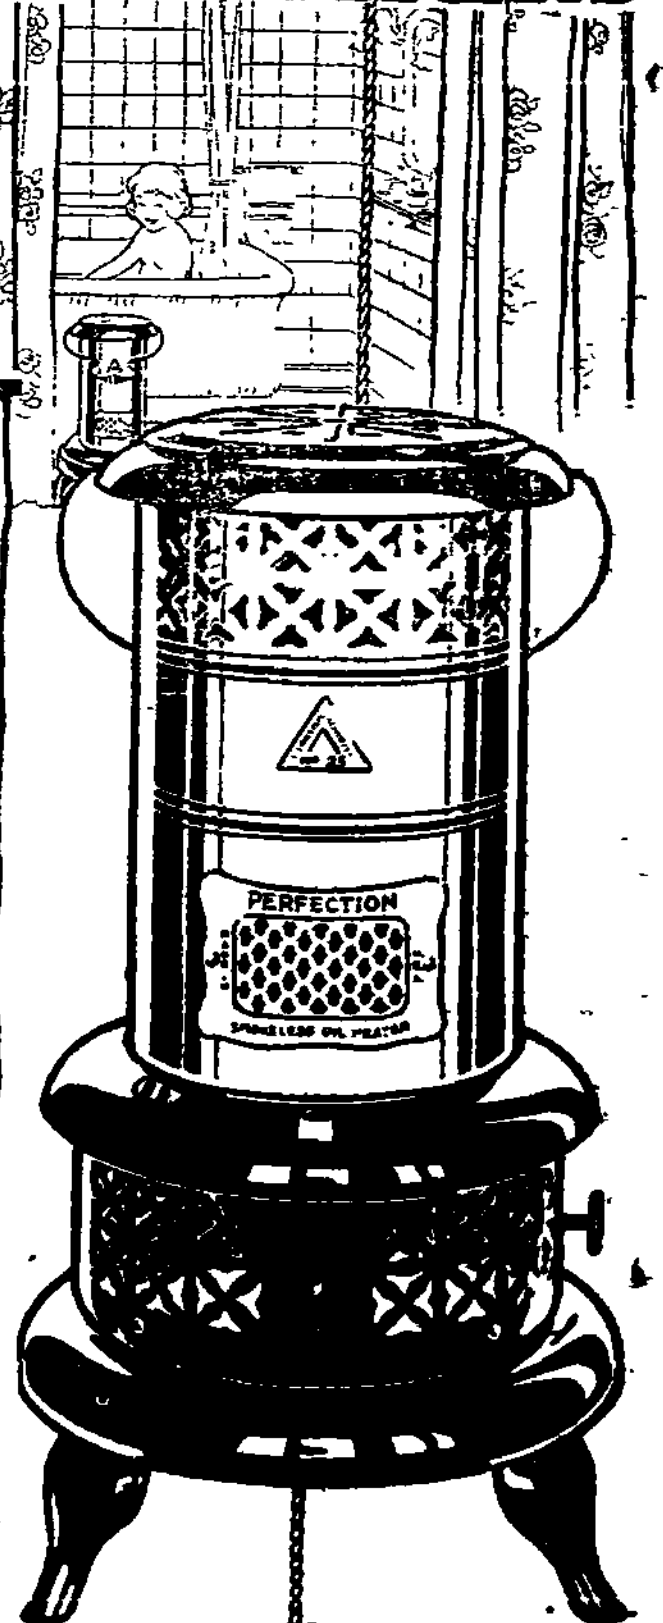

A Perfection Heater makes the usual winter ice-cold tiled floor but a memory. Because of recollections of past discomforts, once used this heater becomes indispensable to your comfort.

It is a perfect heating device, burns without a trace of smoke or smell. Its fuel economy is pronounced, the more so if you use Atlantic Rayolight Oil. A large one-gallon tank makes constant refilling unnecessary.

Almost any dealer will gladly demonstrate a Perfection Oil Heater. The modest price ($2.75 to $5.00) will especially please and astonish you.

Got any rusty pots or pans—so badly rusted that you feel like throwing them away? Don't! Instead, clean them with Atlantic Rayolight Oil, and, as if by magic, the rust will disappear. What do you do with kerosene? If you know any real good uses, you'll enjoy reading later advertisements.
